Comment:

I feel we've already passed the stage of "comments". I140 EAD proposed rule has been circulating since last year and there has been no progress or any implementation so far. For skilled non immigrants with I140 approval, please ensure there are no H1B extensions & effective EAD should be given to them. Considering 6 year H1b period with only extensions for I140 approvals, several non immigrants are scared to leave their employer and take up good opportunities to serve America in a better way. I've seen people who are staying in US legally for more than 10-15 years are still providing the same immigration related documents for their extensions. The voice has been already raised in many places & very recently a petition in whitehouse.gov has also been filed to gather signatures and a huge response of over than 100k non immigrants have signed them.

<https://petitions.whitehouse.gov/petition/no-respite-highly-skilled-americans-waiting-need-portable-work-authorization-recapture-500k-green-cards> I appreciate USCIS for putting up the effort to reform the petition, but the change has to come very soon. *🌐
